

Dispute Settlement Update

January 14, 2005

I. WTO

A. Proceedings in which the United States is a plaintiff

1. Argentina—Patent and test data protection for pharmaceuticals and agricultural chemicals (WT/DS171, 196)

On May 6, 1999, the United States filed a consultation request challenging Argentina's failure to provide a system of exclusive marketing rights for pharmaceutical products, and to ensure that changes in its laws and regulations during its transition period do not result in a lesser degree of consistency with the provisions of the Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights ("TRIPS Agreement"). Consultations were held on June 15, 1999, and again on July 27, 1999. On May 30, 2000, the United States expanded its claims in this dispute to include new concerns that have arisen as a result of Argentina's failure to fully implement its remaining TRIPS obligations that came due on January 1, 2000. These concerns include Argentina's failure to protect confidential test data submitted to government regulatory authorities for pharmaceuticals and agricultural chemicals; its denial of certain exclusive rights for patents; its failure to provide such provisional measures as preliminary injunctions to prevent infringements of patent rights; and its exclusion of certain subject matter from patentability. Consultations continued until April 16, 2002, when the two sides agreed to settle eight of the ten issues in the dispute. Argentina and the United States notified a settlement of these issues to the DSB on May 31, 2002. The United States reserved its rights with respect to the remaining issues, and the dispute remains in the consultation phase with respect to these issues.

2. Brazil—Measures on minimum import prices (WT/DS197)

The United States requested consultations on May 31, 2000, with Brazil regarding its customs valuation regime. U.S. exporters of textile products have reported that Brazil uses officially-established minimum reference prices both as a requirement to obtain import licenses and/or as a base requirement for import. In practice, this system works to prohibit the import of products with declared values below the established minimum prices. This practice appears inconsistent with Brazil's WTO obligations, including those under the Agreement on Customs Valuation. The United States participated as an interested third party in a dispute initiated by the EU regarding the same matter, and decided to pursue its own case as well. The United States held consultations with Brazil on July 18, 2000, and continues to monitor the situation.

3. Canada—Measures relating to exports of wheat and treatment of imported grain (WT/DS276)

On December 17, 2002, the United States requested consultations with Canada regarding trade in wheat. The United States challenged the wheat trading practices of the Canadian Wheat Board (CWB) as inconsistent with WTO disciplines governing the conduct of state-trading enterprises.

The United States also challenged as unfair and burdensome Canada's requirements to treat imported grain differently than Canadian grain in the Canadian grain handling system, along with Canada's discriminatory policy that affects U.S. grain access to Canada's rail transportation system. Consultations were held January 31, 2003 but failed to resolve the dispute.

The United States requested the establishment of a panel on March 6, 2003. The DSB established a panel on March 31, 2003. The Director General composed the panel as follows: Ms. Claudia Orozco, Chair, and Mr. Alan Matthews and Mr. Hanspeter Tschaeni, Members. Following a preliminary procedural ruling, the DSB established a second panel on July 11, 2003, with the same panelists and the same schedule. In its report circulated on April 6, 2004, the panel found that Canada's grain handling system and rail transportation system discriminate against imported grain in violation of national treatment principles. However, the panel found that the United States failed to establish a claim that Canada violates WTO disciplines governing the conduct of state trading enterprises. The United States appealed the panel's findings related to state trading enterprises. On August 30, 2004, the Appellate Body upheld the panel's findings on state trading enterprises. Canada did not appeal the panel's findings that Canada's grain handling and transportation systems discriminate against U.S. grain. The DSB adopted the panel and Appellate Body reports on September 27, 2004. Canada and the United States subsequently agreed that the reasonable period of time for implementation of the DSB's recommendations and rulings will expire on August 1, 2005.

4. China—Value-added tax on integrated circuits (WT/DS309)

On March 18, 2004, the United States requested consultations with China regarding its value-added tax ("VAT") on integrated circuits ("ICs"). While China provides for a 17 percent VAT on ICs, enterprises in China are entitled to a partial refund of the VAT on ICs that they have produced. Moreover, China allows for a partial refund of the VAT for domestically-designed ICs that, because of technological limitations, are manufactured outside of China. As a result of the rebates, China appears to be according less favorable treatment to imported ICs than it accords to domestic ICs. China also appears to be providing for less favorable treatment of imports from one WTO Member than another and discriminating against services and service suppliers of other Members. The United States considers these measures to be inconsistent with China's obligations under Articles I and III of the GATT 1994, the Protocol on the Accession of the People's Republic of China, and Article XVII of the GATS. Consultations were held on April 27, 2004 in Geneva, and additional bilateral meetings were held in Washington and Beijing. On July 14, 2004, the United States and China notified the WTO of their agreement to resolve the dispute. Effective immediately, China will not certify any new IC products or manufacturers for eligibility for VAT refunds, China will no longer offer VAT refunds that favor ICs designed in China, and, by April 1, 2005, China will stop providing VAT refunds on Chinese-produced ICs to current beneficiaries.

5. EC—Measures concerning meat and meat products (hormones) (WT/DS26, 48)

The United States and Canada challenged the EU ban on imports of meat from animals to which any of six hormones for growth promotional purposes had been administered. On July 2, 1996, the following panelists were selected, with the consent of the parties, to review the U.S. claims: Mr. Thomas Cottier, Chairman; Mr. Jun Yokota and Mr. Peter Palecka, Members. The panel found that the EU ban is inconsistent with the EU's obligations under the Agreement on the Application of Sanitary and Phytosanitary Measures ("SPS Agreement"), and that the ban is not based on science, a risk assessment, or relevant international standards. Upon appeal, the Appellate Body affirmed the panel's findings that the EU ban fails to satisfy the requirements of the SPS Agreement. The Appellate Body also found that while a country has broad discretion in electing what level of protection it wishes to implement, in doing so it must fulfill the requirements of the SPS Agreement. In this case the ban imposed is not rationally related to the conclusions of the risk assessments the EU had performed.

Because the EU did not comply with the recommendations and rulings of the DSB by May 13, 1999, the final date of its compliance period as set by arbitration, the United States sought WTO authorization to suspend concessions with respect to certain products of the EU, the value of which represents an estimate of the annual harm to U.S. exports resulting from the EU's failure to lift its ban on imports of U.S. meat. The EU exercised its right to request arbitration concerning the amount of the suspension. On July 12, 1999, the arbitrators determined the level of suspension to be $116.8 million. On July 26, 1999, the DSB authorized the United States to suspend such concessions and the United States proceeded to impose 100 percent ad valorem duties on a list of EU products with an annual trade value of $116.8 million. On May 26, 2000, USTR announced that it was considering changes to that list of EU products. While discussions with the EU to resolve this matter are continuing, no resolution has been achieved yet. On November 3, 2003, the EU notified the WTO of its plans to make permanent the ban on one hormone, oestradiol. As discussed below (DS320), on November 8, 2004, the European Communities requested consultations with respect to "the United States' continued suspension of concessions and other obligations under the covered agreements" in the EC – Hormones dispute.

6. EC—Protection of trademarks and geographical indications for agricultural products and foodstuffs (WT/DS174)

EU Regulation 2081/92, inter alia, discriminates against non-EC products and nationals with respect to the registration and protection of geographical indications for agricultural products and foodstuffs; it also protects geographical indications to the detriment of TRIPS-guaranteed trademark rights. The United States therefore considers this measure inconsistent with the EU's obligations under the TRIPS Agreement and the GATT 1994. The United States requested consultations regarding this matter on June 1, 1999, and, on April 4, 2003, requested consultations on the additional issue of the EU's national treatment obligations under the GATT 1994. Australia also requested consultations with respect to this measure. When consultations failed to resolve the dispute, the United States requested the establishment of a panel on August 18, 2003. A panel was established on October 2, 2003, to consider the complaints of the United States and Australia. On February 23, 2004, the Director General composed the panel as follows:

Mr. Miguel Rodriguez Mendoza, Chair, and Mr. Seung Wha Chang and Mr. Peter Kam-fai Cheung, Members.

7. EC—Provisional safeguard measures on imports of certain steel products (WT/DS260)

On May 30, 2002, the United States filed a consultation request with respect to the EU's provisional safeguard measures against certain steel products, imposed effective on March 29, 2002. These measures appear to be inconsistent with the EC's obligations under the provisions of the GATT 1994 and of the WTO Agreement on Safeguards, and, in particular, Article XIX of the GATT 1994 and Articles 2, 3, 4, 6, and 12 of the Agreement on Safeguards. These provisions provide, inter alia, that a provisional safeguard measure may only be applied in critical circumstances where delay would cause damage difficult to repair, and only pursuant to a preliminary determination that there is clear evidence that increased imports have caused or threaten to cause serious injury. One round of consultations was held on June 27, 2002, and a second round was held on July 24, 2002. The United States requested the establishment of a panel on August 19, 2002, and the DSB established a panel on September 16, 2002.

8. EC—Measures affecting the approval and marketing of biotech products (WT/DS291)

On May 13, 2003, the United States filed a consultation request with respect to the EU's moratorium on all new biotech approvals, and bans of six member states (Austria, France, Germany, Greece, Italy and Luxembourg) on imports of certain biotech products previously approved by the EU. The moratorium is not supported by scientific evidence, and the EU's refusal even to consider any biotech applications for final approval constitutes "undue delay." The national import bans of previously EU-approved products appear not to be based on sufficient scientific evidence. Consultations were held June 19, 2003. The United States requested the establishment of a panel on August 7, 2003, and the DSB established a panel on August 29, 2003. On March 4, 2003, the Director General composed the panel as follows: Mr. Christian Häberli, Chairman, and Mr. Mohan Kumar and Mr. Akio Shimizu, Members.

9. Egypt—Apparel Tariffs (WT/DS305)

On December 23, 2003, the United States requested consultations with Egypt regarding the duties that Egypt applies to certain apparel and textile imports. During the Uruguay Round, Egypt agreed to bind its duties on these imports (classified under HS Chapters 61, 62 and 63) at rates of less than 50 percent (ad valorem) in 2003 and thereafter. The United States believes the duties that Egypt actually applied, on a "per article" basis, greatly exceeded Egypt's bound rates of duty. In January 2004, Egypt informed the United States that it had issued a decree applying ad valorem rates to these imports and setting the duty rates within Egypt's tariff bindings. The United States is reviewing these changes.

10. Japan—Measures affecting the importation of apples (WT/DS245)

On March 1, 2002, the United States requested consultations with Japan regarding Japan's quarantine restrictions on U.S. apples imported into Japan to protect against introduction of fire blight (Erwinia amylovora). These restrictions include, inter alia, the prohibition of imported apples from orchards in which any fire blight is detected, the requirement that export orchards be inspected three times yearly for the presence of fire blight, the disqualification of any orchard from exporting to Japan should fire blight be detected within a 500 meter buffer zone surrounding such orchard, and a post-harvest treatment of exported apples with chlorine. The United States considers these measures to be inconsistent with Japan's obligations under the GATT 1994, the SPS Agreement, and the Agreement on Agriculture. Japan's measures also appear to nullify or impair the benefits accruing to the United States directly or indirectly under the cited agreements. Consultations were held on April 18, 2002, but failed to resolve the matter. On May 7, 2002, the United States requested the establishment of a panel. The DSB established the panel on June 3, 2002. The Director General composed the panel as follows: Mr. Michael Cartland, Chairman, and Mr. Christian Haeblerli and Ms. Kathy-Ann Brown, Members. In its report issued on July 15, 2003, the panel agreed with the United States that Japan's fire blight measures on U.S. apples are inconsistent with Japan's WTO obligations. In particular, the panel found that: (1) Japan's measures are maintained without sufficient scientific evidence, inconsistent with Article 2.2 of the SPS Agreement; (2) Japan's measures cannot be provisionally maintained under Article 5.7 of the SPS Agreement (an exception to the obligation under Article 2.2); and (3) Japan's measures are not based on a risk assessment and so are inconsistent with Article 5.1 of the SPS Agreement. Japan appealed the panel's report on August 28, 2003. The Appellate Body issued its report on November 26, 2003, upholding the panel's findings. The DSB adopted the panel and Appellate Body reports on December 10, 2003. Japan notified its intention to implement the recommendations and rulings of the DSB on January 9, 2004. Japan and the United States agreed that the reasonable period of time for implementation will expire on June 30, 2004.

On expiration of the reasonable period of time, Japan proposed revised measures which made limited changes to its existing measures, and which continued to include an orchard inspection and a buffer zone. On July 19, 2004, the United States requested the establishment of a DSU Article 21.5 compliance panel to evaluate Japan's revised measures. Simultaneously, the United States requested authorization to suspend concessions or other obligations under DSU Article 22.2 in an amount equal to $143.4 million. Japan objected to this amount on July 29, 2004, referring the matter to arbitration. The parties suspended the arbitration pending completion of the compliance proceeding. The compliance panel was established on July 30, 2004. The original three panelists agreed to serve on the compliance panel.

11. Mexico—Measures affecting telecommunications services (WT/DS204)

On August 17, 2000, the United States requested consultations with Mexico regarding its commitments and obligations under the General Agreement on Trade in Services ("GATS") with respect to basic and value-added telecommunications services. The U.S. consultation request covered a number of key issues, including the Government of Mexico's failure to (1) maintain effective disciplines over the former monopoly, Telmex, which is able to use its dominant position in the market to thwart competition; (2) ensure timely, cost-oriented interconnection that would permit competing carriers to connect to Telmex customers to provide local, long-distance, and international service; and (3) permit alternatives to an outmoded system of charging U.S. carriers above-cost rates for completing international calls into Mexico.

These consultations, which were held on October 10, 2000, provided helpful clarifications but did not resolve the dispute. Therefore, on November 10, 2000, the United States filed a request for the establishment of a panel as well as an additional request for consultations on Mexico's newly issued measures. Those consultations were held on January 16, 2001. At that time, the United States decided not to pursue its panel request further given progress subsequently achieved in Mexico's domestic telecommunications market. For instance, Mexico reduced domestic interconnection rates and introduced measures to regulate Telmex as a dominant carrier. However, Mexico failed to take steps to address U.S. concerns regarding the anti-competitive nature of its international telecommunications regime, including the exorbitant interconnection rates that Telmex charged U.S. operators to complete calls into Mexico. Therefore, on February 13, 2002, the United States filed a new request for a panel to examine these unresolved issues. The panel was established on April 17, 2002. On August 26, 2002, the Director General composed the panel as follows: Mr. Ernst-Ulrich Petersmann, Chairman; Mr. Raymond Tam and Mr. Björn Wellenius, Members.

On April 2, 2004, the panel released its final report, siding with the United States on most of the major claims in this dispute. Specifically, the panel found that: (1) Mexico breached its commitment to ensure that U.S. carriers can connect their international calls to Mexico's major supplier, Telmex, at cost-based rates; (2) Mexico breached its obligation to maintain appropriate measures to prevent its dominant carrier from engaging in anti-competitive practices, by granting Telmex the exclusive authority to negotiate the rate that all Mexican carriers charge U.S. companies to complete calls originating in the United States; and (3) Mexico breached its obligations to ensure that U.S. carriers operating within Mexico can lease lines from Mexican carriers (and thereby provide services on a resale basis). The panel concluded, however, that Mexico may prohibit U.S. carriers from using leased lines in Mexico to complete calls originating in the United States.

Mexico did not appeal the panel report, which the DSB adopted on June 1, 2004. At that DSB meeting, Mexico and the United States informed the DSB that they had reached agreement on the steps required to implement the panel report. Mexico and the United States subsequently agreed that the reasonable period of time for implementation of the DSB's recommendations and rulings will expire on July 1, 2005.

12. Mexico—Definitive antidumping measures on beef and rice (WT/DS295)

On June 16, 2003, the United States requested consultations on Mexico's antidumping measures on rice and beef, as well as certain provisions of Mexico's Foreign Trade Act and its Federal Code of Civil Procedure. The specific U.S. concerns include: (1) Mexico's injury investigations in the two antidumping determinations; (2) Mexico's failure to terminate the rice investigation after a negative preliminary injury determination and its decision to include firms that were not dumping in the coverage of the antidumping measures; (3) Mexico's improper application of the "facts available"; (4) Mexico's improper calculation of the antidumping rate applied to non-investigated exporters; (5) Mexico's improper limitation of the antidumping rates it calculated in the beef investigation; (6) Mexico's refusal to conduct reviews of exporters' antidumping rates; and (7) Mexico's insufficient public determinations. The United States also challenged five provisions of Mexico's Foreign Trade Act. The United States alleges violations of various provisions of the Antidumping Agreement, the Agreement on Subsidies and Countervailing Measures, and the GATT 1994. Consultations were held July 31 and August 1, 2003. The United States requested the establishment of a panel on the measure on rice on September 19, 2003, and the DSB established a panel on November 7, 2003. On February 13, 2004, the Director General composed the panel as follows: Mr. Crawford Falconer, Chair, and Ms. Marta Calmon Lemme and Ms. Enie Neri De Ross, Members. Consultations on the measure on beef continue.

13. Mexico—Tax measures on soft drinks and other beverages (WT/DS308)

On March 16, 2004, the United States requested consultations with Mexico regarding its tax measures on soft drinks and other beverages that use any sweetener other than cane sugar. These measures apply a 20 percent tax on soft drinks and other beverages that use any sweetener other than cane sugar. Soft drinks and other beverages sweetened with cane sugar are exempt from the tax. Mexico's tax measures also include a 20 percent tax on the commissioning, mediation, agency, representation, brokerage, consignment, and distribution of soft drinks and other beverages that use any sweetener other than cane sugar. Mexico's tax measures work inter alia to restrict U.S. exports to Mexico of high fructose corn syrup, a corn-based sweetener that is directly competitive and substitutable with cane sugar. The United States considers these measures to be inconsistent with Mexico's national treatment obligations under Article III of the GATT 1994. Consultations were held on May 13, 2004, but they failed to resolve the dispute.

The United States requested the establishment of a panel on June 10, 2004, and the DSB established a panel on July 6, 2004. On August 18, 2004, the parties agreed to the composition of the panel as follows: Mr. Ronald Saborío Soto, Chair, and Mr. Edmond McGovern and Mr. David Walker, Members.

14. Venezuela—Import licensing measures on certain agricultural products (WT/DS275)

On November 7, 2002, the United States requested consultations with Venezuela regarding import licensing measures on certain agricultural products. Venezuela has established import licensing and permit requirements for numerous agricultural products that appear to establish a discretionary import licensing regime, and that fail to establish a transparent and predictable system for issuing import licenses. These measures severely restrict and distort trade in these goods, and appear to be in violation of provisions of the Agreement on Agriculture, the GATT 1994, and the Import Licensing Agreement. Consultations were held November 26, 2002.

15. European Communities—Selected customs matters (WT/DS315)

On September 21, 2004, the United States requested consultations with the EC with respect to (1) lack of uniformity in the administration by EC member States of EC customs laws and regulations and (2) lack of an EC forum for prompt review and correction of member State customs determinations. On September 29, 2004, the EC accepted the U.S. request for consultations, and consultations were subsequently held on November 16, 2004. The United States requested the establishment of a panel on January 13, 2005.

16. European Communities—Subsidies on large civil aircraft (WT/DS316)

On October 6, 2004, the United States requested consultations with the EC, as well as with Germany, France, the United Kingdom, and Spain, with respect to subsidies provided to Airbus, a manufacturer of large civil aircraft. The United States alleged that such subsidies violated various provisions of the SCM Agreement, as well as Article XVI:1 of the GATT. Consultations were held on November 4, 2004. On January 11, 2005, the United States and the EU agreed to a framework for the negotiation of a new agreement to end subsidies for large civil aircraft. The parties set a three-month time frame for the negotiations and agreed that, during negotiations, they would not request panel proceedings.

B. Proceedings in which the United States is a defendant

1. United States—Tax treatment for “foreign sales corporations” (“FSC”) (WT/DS108)

The EU challenged the FSC provisions of the U.S. tax law, claiming that the provisions constitute prohibited export subsidies and import substitution subsidies under the Subsidies Agreement, and that they violate the export subsidy provisions of the Agreement on Agriculture. A panel was established on September 22, 1998. On November 9, 1998, the following panelists were selected, with the consent of the parties, to review the EU claims: Mr. Crawford Falconer, Chairman; Mr. Didier Chambovey and Mr. Seung Wha Chang, Members. The panel found that the FSC tax exemption constitutes a prohibited export subsidy under the Subsidies Agreement, and also violates U.S. obligations under the Agreement on Agriculture. The panel did not make findings regarding the FSC administrative pricing rules or the EU's import substitution subsidy claims. The panel recommended that the United States withdraw the subsidy by October 1, 2000. The panel report was circulated on October 8, 1999 and the United States filed its notice of appeal on November 26, 1999. The Appellate Body circulated its report on February 24, 2000. The Appellate Body upheld the panel's finding that the FSC tax exemption constitutes a prohibited export subsidy under the Subsidies Agreement, but, like the panel, declined to address the FSC administrative pricing rules or the EU's import substitution subsidy claims. While the Appellate Body reversed the panel's findings regarding the Agreement on Agriculture, it found that the FSC tax exemption violated provisions of that Agreement other than the ones cited by the panel. The panel and Appellate Body reports were adopted on March 20, 2000, and on April 7, 2000, the United States announced its intention to respect its WTO obligations. On November 15, 2000, the President signed legislation that repealed and replaced the FSC provisions, but the EU claimed that the new legislation failed to bring the US into compliance with its WTO obligations.

In anticipation of a dispute over compliance, the United States and EU reached agreement in September 2000 on the procedures to review U.S. compliance with the WTO recommendations and rulings. Pursuant to a request approved by the WTO, the deadline for U.S. compliance was changed from October 1, 2000, as recommended by the panel, to November 1, 2000. The procedural agreement also outlined certain procedural steps to be taken after passage of US legislation to replace the FSC. The essential feature of the agreement provided for sequencing of WTO procedures as follows: (1) a panel would determine the WTO-consistency of FSC replacement legislation (the parties retained the right to appeal); (2) only after the appeal process was exhausted would arbitration over the appropriate level of retaliation be conducted if the replacement legislation was found WTO-inconsistent. Pursuant to the procedural agreement, on November 17, the EU requested authority to impose countermeasures and suspend concessions in the amount of $4.043 billion. On November 27, the United States objected to this amount, thereby referring the matter to arbitration, which was then suspended pending a review of the legislation's WTO-consistency. On December 7, the EU requested establishment of a panel to review the legislation, and the panel was reestablished for this purpose on December 20, 2000. In a report circulated on August 20, 2001, the panel found that the FSC Repeal and Extraterritorial Income Exclusion Act of 2000 (ETI Act) does not bring the United States into conformity with its WTO obligations. The United States appealed the panel ruling on October 15, 2001. On January 14, 2001, the Appellate Body affirmed the findings of the panel. On January 29, 2002, the panel and Appellate Body reports were adopted, and the suspended arbitration to determine the amount of concessions was reactivated, with the original panelists serving as the arbitration panel pursuant to the procedural agreement. The arbitration panel circulated its report on August 30, 2002, and found that the EU was entitled to impose trade sanctions in the amount of $4.043 billion. On May 7, 2003, the DSB granted the EC authorization to suspend concessions consistent with the decision of the arbitrator. On December 8, 2003, the Council of the European Union adopted Council Regulation (EC) No. 2193/2003, which provided for the graduated imposition of sanctions. These sanctions took effect on March 1, 2004.

On October 22, 2004, the President signed the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004 (AJCA). The AJCA repealed the FSC/ETI regime and, consistent with standard legislative practice regarding major tax legislation, contained a transition provision and a "grandfather" provision for pre-existing binding contracts. On November 5, 2004, the EU requested consultations regarding the transition and grandfather provisions. Consultations took place on January 11, 2005. The EU requested establishment of a panel on January 13, 2005. In addition, although the EU previously had indicated that it would suspend the sanctions on January 1, 2005, the legal steps necessary to do so appear to have been delayed.

2. United States—Antidumping Act of 1916 (WT/DS136, 162)

Title VII of the Revenue Act of 1916 (15 U.S.C. §§ 71-74, entitled “Unfair Competition”), often referred to as the Antidumping Act of 1916, allows for private claims against, and criminal prosecutions of, parties that import or assist in importing goods into the United States at a price substantially less than the actual market value or wholesale price. On April 1, 1999, the following panelists were selected, with the consent of the parties, to review the EU claims: Mr. Johann Human, Chairman; Mr. Dimitrij Grëar and Mr. Eugeniusz Piontek, Members. On January 29, 1999, the panel found that the 1916 Act is inconsistent with WTO rules because the specific intent requirement of the Act does not satisfy the material injury test required by the Antidumping Agreement. The panel also found that civil and criminal penalties in the 1916 Act go beyond the provisions of the Antidumping Agreement. The panel report was circulated on March 31, 2000. Separately, Japan sought its own rulings on the same matter from the same panelists; that report was circulated on May 29, 2000. On the same day, the United States filed notices of appeal for both cases, which were consolidated into one Appellate Body proceeding. The Appellate Body report, issued August 28, 2000, affirmed the panel reports. This ruling, however, has no effect on the U.S. antidumping law, as codified in the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. The panel and Appellate Body reports were adopted by the DSB on September 26, 2000.

On November 17, 2000, the EU and Japan requested arbitration to determine the period of time to be given the United States to implement the panel’s recommendation. By mutual agreement of the parties, Mr. A.V. Ganesan was appointed to serve as arbitrator. On February 28, 2001, he determined that the deadline for implementation was July 26, 2001. On July 24, the DSB approved a U.S. proposal to extend the deadline until the earlier of the end of the then-current session of the U.S. Congress or December 31, 2001. Legislation to repeal the Act and extinguish cases pending under the Act was introduced in the House on December 20, 2001, but no action was taken. Legislation repealing the Act and terminating pending cases was again introduced in the Senate on May 19, 2003, and repeal legislation that would not terminate pending cases was introduced in the House on March 4, 2003 and in the Senate on May 23, 2003.

On January 17, 2002, the United States objected to proposals by the EU and Japan to suspend concessions, thereby referring the matter to arbitration. On February 20, 2002, the following individuals were selected by mutual agreement of the parties to serve as Arbitrator: Mr. Dimitrij Grëar, Chair; Mr. Brendan McGivern and Mr. Eugeniusz Piontek, Members. At the request of the United States, the Arbitrator suspended its work on March 4, 2002, in light of on-going efforts to resolve the dispute. On September 19, 2003, the EU requested that its arbitration resume.

On February 24, 2003, the Arbitrator issued its award in the arbitration. The Arbitrator stated that the EU has no current right to retaliate against the United States. While it refused to approve or disapprove of the regulation proposed by the EU (which would resemble the 1916 Act in some respects), it found that the EU had to limit any retaliation to the amount of quantifiable final judgments or settlements under the 1916 Act. There were no such judgments or settlements against EU companies.

On December 3, 2004, the President signed the Miscellaneous Trade and Technical Corrections Act of 2004, which repealed the 1916 Act.

3. United States—Section 110(5) of U.S. Copyright Act (WT/DS160)

As amended in 1998 by the Fairness in Music Licensing Act, Section 110(5) of the U.S. Copyright Act exempts certain retail and restaurant establishments that play radio or television music from paying royalties to songwriters and music publishers. The EU claimed that, as a result of this exception, the United States is in violation of its TRIPS obligations. Consultations with the EU took place on March 2, 1999. A panel on this matter was established on May 26, 1999. On August 6, 1999, the Director General composed the panel as follows: Ms. Carmen Luz Guarda, Chair; Mr. Arumugamangalam V. Ganesan and Mr. Ian F. Sheppard, Members. The panel issued its final report on June 15, 2000, and found that one of the two exemptions provided by Section 110(5) is inconsistent with the United States' WTO obligations. The panel report was adopted by the DSB on July 27, 2000, and the United States informed the DSB of its intention to respect its WTO obligations. On October 23, 2000, the EU requested arbitration to determine the period of time to be given the United States to implement the panel's recommendation. By mutual agreement of the parties, Mr. J. Lacarte-Muró was appointed to serve as arbitrator. He determined that the reasonable period of time for implementation would expire on July 27, 2001. On July 24, the DSB approved a U.S. proposal to extend the reasonable period of time for implementation until the earlier of the end of the then-current session of the U.S. Congress or December 31, 2001.

On July 23, 2001, the United States and the EU requested arbitration to determine the level of nullification or impairment of benefits accruing to the EU as a result of Section 110(5)(B). The Director General composed the arbitration panel as follows: Mr. Ian F. Sheppard, Chair; Ms. Margaret Liang and Mr. David Vivas-Eugui, Members. In a decision circulated to WTO Members on November 9, 2001, the arbitrators determined that the value of the benefits lost to the EU in this case is $1.1 million.

On January 7, 2002, the EU requested authorization to suspend certain WTO obligations because the United States had not implemented the recommendations of the DSB. The United States objected to the request on January 17, 2002, and the matter was referred to arbitration. The parties agreed that the arbitration should be carried out by the same individuals that served in the earlier arbitration proceeding in the case. On February 27, 2002, the panel suspended the arbitration at the joint request of the United States and the EU, in light of ongoing efforts to resolve the issue.

On June 23, 2003, the United States and the EU notified to the WTO a mutually satisfactory temporary arrangement regarding the dispute. Pursuant to this arrangement, the United States made a lump-sum payment of $3.3 million to the EU, to a fund established to finance activities of general interest to music copyright holders, in particular awareness-raising campaigns at the national and international level and activities to combat piracy in the digital network. The temporary arrangement covered a three-year period, which ended on December 21, 2004.

4. United States—Section 211 Omnibus Appropriations Act of 1998 (WT/DS176)

Section 211 addresses the ability to register or enforce, without the consent of previous owners, trademarks or trade names associated with businesses confiscated without compensation by the Cuban government. The EU questions the consistency of Section 211 with the TRIPS Agreement, and it requested consultations on July 7, 1999. Consultations were held September 13 and December 13, 1999. On June 30, 2000, the EU requested a panel. A panel was established on September 26, 2000, and at the request of the EU the Director General composed the panel on October 26, 2000, as follows: Mr. Wade Armstrong, Chairman; Mr. François Dessemontet and Mr. Armand de Mestral, Members. The panel report was circulated on August 6, 2001, rejecting 13 of the EU's 14 claims and finding that, in most respects, section 211 is not inconsistent with the obligations of the United States under the TRIPS Agreement. The EU appealed the panel report on October 4, 2001. The Appellate Body issued its report on January 2, 2002. The Appellate Body reversed the panel's one finding against the United States, and upheld the panel's favorable findings that WTO members are entitled to determine trademark and trade name ownership criteria. The Appellate Body found certain instances, however, in which section 211 might breach national treatment and most favored nation obligations of the TRIPS Agreement. The Appellate Body and panel reports were adopted on February 1, 2002, and the United States informed the DSB of its intention to respect its WTO obligations. On December 19, 2003, the EU and the United States agreed to extend the reasonable period of time for implementation until December 31, 2004. The RPT was later extended until June 30, 2005.

5. United States—Antidumping measures on certain hot-rolled steel products from Japan (WT/DS184)

Japan alleged that the preliminary and final determinations of the Department of Commerce and the USITC in their antidumping investigations of certain hot-rolled steel products from Japan, issued on November 25 and 30, 1998, February 12, 1999, April 28, 1999, and June 23, 1999, were erroneous and based on deficient procedures under the U.S. Tariff Act of 1930 and related regulations. Japan claimed that these procedures and regulations violate the GATT 1994, as well as the Antidumping Agreement. Consultations were held on January 13, 2000, and a panel was established on March 20, 2000. In May 1999, the Director General composed the panel as follows: Mr. Harsha V. Singh, Chairman; Mr. Yanyong Phuangrath and Ms. Lidia di Vico, Members. On February 28, 2001, the panel circulated its report, in which it rejected most of Japan's claims, but found that particular aspects of the antidumping duty calculation were inconsistent with the WTO Antidumping Agreement. On April 25, 2001, the United States filed a notice of appeal on certain issues in the panel report. The Appellate Body report was issued on July 24, 2001, reversing in part and affirming in part. On September 10, 2001, at a meeting of the DSB, the United States stated its intention to implement the recommendations and rulings of the DSB in a manner that respects U.S. WTO obligations, and that it would need a reasonable period of time in which to do so. The United States and Japan were unable to reach agreement on a reasonable period of time for compliance, and on November 20, 2001, Japan referred the question to arbitration. By mutual agreement of the parties, Mr. Florentino P. Feliciano was appointed to serve as arbitrator. On February 19, 2002, he determined that the reasonable period of time for implementation will expire on November 23, 2002. The United States implemented the recommendations and rulings of the DSB with respect to the particular investigations at issue prior to November 23, 2003. With respect to the outstanding implementation issue, the so-called “all others” provision, on December 10, 2003, the DSB agreed to extend the reasonable period of time for implementation until July 31, 2004, and on August 31, 2004, this period was further extended to July 31, 2005.

6. United States—Countervailing duty measures concerning certain products from the European Communities (WT/DS212)

On November 13, 2000, the EU requested WTO dispute settlement consultations concerning determinations made in various U.S. countervailing duty (CVD) proceedings covering imports from member states of the EU, all such determinations involving the Department of Commerce’s “change in ownership” (or “privatization”) methodology. Previously, the EU had successfully challenged Commerce’s methodology in a WTO dispute concerning leaded steel products from the UK. Consultations were held December 7, 2000. Further consultations were requested on February 1, 2001, and held on April 3. Eventually, the EU requested the establishment of a panel with respect to determinations in 12 CVD determinations involving imported steel products from EU member states. The EU’s challenged the continued application of the methodology at issue in the UK leaded steel products case, as well as the new methodology devised by Commerce to replace it. A panel was established on September 10, 2001, and at the request of the EU the Director General composed the panel on November 5, 2001, as follows: Mr. Gilles Gauthier, Chairman; Ms. Marie-Gabrielle Ineichen-Fleisch and Mr. Michael Mulgrew, Members. In its final report, issued July 31, 2002, the panel found both the old and new Commerce privatization methodologies to be inconsistent with the WTO Subsidies Agreement. In addition, the panel found section 771(5)(F) of the Tariff Act of 1930 – the “privatization” provision in the CVD statute – to be WTO-inconsistent based on its conclusion that the provision precludes Commerce from acting in a WTO-consistent manner. The United States appealed the report on September 9, 2002. The Appellate Body issued its report on December 9, 2002. The Appellate Body affirmed the panel’s finding that Commerce’s methodology is inconsistent with the Subsidies Agreement, but disagreed with some of the panel’s reasoning. In particular, the Appellate Body disagreed with the panel that an arm’s length sale of a government-owned firm for fair market value always extinguishes prior subsidies. Instead, according to the Appellate Body, such a transaction creates merely a rebuttable presumption that prior subsidies are extinguished.

The DSB adopted the panel and Appellate Body reports on January 8, 2003. The United States stated its intention to implement the DSB recommendations and rulings on January 27, 2003. On April 10, 2003, the EC and the United States agreed that the reasonable period of time for implementation will expire on November 8, 2003. Commerce modified its methodology for analyzing a privatization in the context of the CVD law, and issued revised determinations under section 129 of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act, revoking two CVD orders in whole and one CVD order in part, and, in the case of five CVD orders, revising the cash deposit rates for certain companies. The United States stated that it had complied with the DSB recommendations and rulings at a DSB meeting on November 7, 2003.

On March 17, 2004, the EU requested consultations regarding the Department of Commerce's new change of ownership methodology. The EU contends that the Department countervails the entire amount of unamortized subsidies even if the price paid for the acquired firm was only $1 less than the fair market value. With respect to the Department of Commerce's revised determinations, the EU complains about the three sunset reviews in which the Department declined to address the privatization transactions in question on what essentially were "judicial economy" grounds. With respect to a fourth sunset review, the EU challenges the Department's analysis of the sale of shares to employees of the company in question. Consultations took place on May 24, 2004. A panel was established on September 27, 2004. The original three panelists agreed to serve on the compliance panel.

7. United States—Countervailing duties on certain corrosion-resistant carbon steel flat products from Germany (WT/DS213)

Also on November 13, 2000, the EU requested dispute settlement consultations with respect to the Department of Commerce's countervailing duty order on certain corrosion-resistant flat rolled steel products from Germany. In a "sunset review", the Department of Commerce declined to revoke the order based on a finding that subsidization would continue at a rate of 0.54 percent. The EU alleges that this action violates the Subsidies Agreement, asserting that countervailing duty orders must be revoked where the rate of subsidization found is less than the 1 percent de minimis standard for initial countervailing duty investigations. The United States and the EU held consultations pursuant to this request on December 8, 2000. A second round of consultations was held on March 21, 2001. A panel was established at the EU's request on September 10, 2001. The Director General composed the panel as follows: Mr. Hugh McPhail, Chair, and Mr. Wieslaw Karsz and Mr. Ronald Erdmann, Members. The panel circulated its report on July 3, 2002. In its report, the panel found that the U.S. system of automatically self-initiating sunset reviews is WTO-consistent and that U.S. law, as such, is not inconsistent with the obligation to determine whether future subsidization is likely. However, the panel found that Commerce's failure to apply the 1 percent de minimis standard for CVD investigations to sunset reviews is WTO-inconsistent. The panel also found that Commerce's decision in the German steel sunset review was overly simplistic and lacked a sufficient factual basis. The United States appealed the report on August 30, 2002.

On November 28, 2002, the Appellate Body issued its report. The Appellate Body affirmed the findings of the panel that the EU had appealed, and reversed the panel's finding regarding the de minimis standard that the U.S. had appealed. The DSB adopted the panel and Appellate Body reports on December 19, 2002. The United States stated its intention to implement the DSB recommendations on January 17, 2003.

On April 20, 2004, the United States informed the DSB that it had revoked the countervailing duty order at issue, thereby implementing the DSB's recommendations and rulings.

8. United States—Continued Dumping and Subsidy Offset Act of 2000 (“CDSOA”) (WT/DS217, 234)

On December 21, 2000, Australia, Brazil, Chile, the EU, India, Indonesia, Japan, Korea, and Thailand requested consultations with the United States regarding the Continued Dumping and Subsidy Offset Act of 2000 (19 USC 754), which amended Title VII of the Tariff Act of 1930 to transfer import duties collected under U.S. antidumping and countervailing duty orders from the U.S. Treasury to the companies that filed the antidumping and countervailing duty petitions. Consultations were held on February 6, 2001. On May 21, 2001, Canada and Mexico also requested consultations on the same matter, which were held on June 29, 2001. On July 12, 2001, the original nine complaining parties requested the establishment of a panel, which was established on August 23. On September 10, 2001, a panel was established at the request of Canada and Mexico, and all complaints were consolidated into one panel. The Director General composed the panel as follows: Mr. Luzius Wasescha, Chair, and Mr. Maamoun Abdel-Fattah and Mr. William Falconer, Members. The panel's final report, circulated on September 16, 2002, found that the CDSOA is an impermissible action against dumping and subsidies under the WTO Antidumping and Subsidies Agreements, respectively. It also found that the CDSOA violates the standing provisions of these agreements. The United States appealed the panel's report on October 1, 2002. The Appellate Body issued its report on January 16, 2003, upholding the panel's finding that the CDSOA is an impermissible action against dumping and subsidies, but reversing the panel's finding on standing. The DSB adopted the panel and Appellate Body reports on January 27, 2003. At that meeting, the United States stated its intention to implement the DSB recommendations and rulings. On March 14, 2003, the complaining parties requested arbitration to determine a reasonable period of time for implementation. On June 13, 2003, the arbitrator determined that this period would end on December 27, 2003. On June 19, 2003, legislation to bring the Continued Dumping and Subsidy Offset Act into conformity with U.S. obligations under the AD Agreement, the SCM Agreement and the GATT of 1994 was introduced in the U.S. Senate (S. 1299).

On January 15, 2004, eight complaining parties (Brazil, Canada, Chile, EU, India, Japan, Korea, and Mexico) requested WTO authorization to retaliate. The remaining three complaining parties (Australia, Indonesia and Thailand) agreed to extend to December 27, 2004, the period of time in which the United States has to comply with the WTO rulings and recommendations in this dispute. On January 23, 2004, the United States objected to the requests from the eight complaining parties to retaliate, thereby referring the matter to arbitration. On August 31, 2004, the Arbitrators issued their awards in each of the eight arbitrations. They determined that each complaining party could retaliate, on a yearly basis, covering the total value of trade not exceeding, in U.S. dollars, the amount resulting from the following equation: amount of disbursements under CDSOA for the most recent year for which data are available relating to antidumping or countervailing duties paid on imports from each party at that time, as published by the U.S. authorities, multiplied by 0.72.

Based on requests from Brazil, the EU, India, Japan, Korea, Canada, and Mexico, on November 26, 2004, the DSB granted these Members authorization to suspend concessions or other obligations, as provided in DSU Article 22.7 and in the Decisions of the Arbitrators. The DSB granted Chile authorization to suspend concessions or other obligations on December 17, 2004.

9. United States—Countervailing duties on certain carbon steel products from Brazil (WT/DS218)

On December 21, 2000, Brazil requested consultations with the United States regarding U.S. countervailing duties on certain carbon steel products from Brazil, alleging that the Department of Commerce's "change in ownership" (or "privatization") methodology, which was ruled inconsistent with the WTO Subsidies Agreement when applied to leaded steel products from the UK, violates the Subsidies Agreement in this situation as well. Consultations were held on January 17, 2001. The dispute remains in the consultation phase.

10. United States—Antidumping duties on imports of seamless pipe from Italy (WT/DS225)

On February 5, 2001, the EU requested consultations with the United States regarding antidumping duties imposed by the United States on seamless line and pressure pipe from Italy, complaining about the final results of a "sunset" review of that antidumping order, as well as the procedures followed by the Department of Commerce generally for initiating "sunset" reviews pursuant to Section 751 of the Tariff Act of 1930 and 19 CFR §351. The EU alleges that these measures violate the WTO Antidumping Agreement. Consultations were held on March 21, 2001. The dispute remains in the consultation phase.

11. United States—Certain measures regarding antidumping methodology (WT/DS239)

On September 18, 2001, the United States received from Brazil a request for consultations regarding the de minimis standard as applied by the U.S. Department of Commerce in conducting reviews of antidumping orders, and the practice of "zeroing" in conducting investigations and reviews. Brazil submitted a revised request on November 1, 2001, focusing specifically on the antidumping duty order on silicon metal from Brazil. Consultations were held on December 7, 2001. The dispute remains in the consultation phase.

12. United States—Equalizing excise tax imposed by Florida on processed orange and grapefruit products (WT/DS250)

On March 20, 2002, the United States received from Brazil a request for consultations pertaining to the “Equalizing Excise Tax” imposed by the State of Florida on processed orange and grapefruit products produced from citrus fruit grown outside the United States. Brazil claims that the application of the tax to imported processed citrus products differs from the tax treatment of domestic citrus and citrus products in several respects, in violation of Articles II:1(a), III:1 and III:2 of GATT 1994. Brazil further claims that the proceeds of the tax are directed, by the Florida statute, to the promotion of Florida citrus and citrus products, with no promotion of imported citrus or citrus products, in violation of Articles III:1 and III:4 of GATT 1994. Consultations were held May 2, 2002, and June 27, 2002. Brazil requested the establishment of a panel on August 16, 2002. The DSB established a panel on October 1, 2002. Following amendment of the Florida tax legislation on April 30, 2004, the United States and Brazil notified the DSB on May 28, 2004 that they had reached a mutually satisfactory solution.

13. United States—Final countervailing duty determination with respect to certain softwood lumber from Canada (WT/DS257)

On May 3, 2002, Canada requested consultations with the United States on the U.S. Department of Commerce’s final countervailing duty determination concerning certain softwood lumber from Canada. Among other things, Canada challenged the evidence upon which the investigation was initiated and claimed that the Commerce Department incorrectly determined that the provision of low-cost timber to lumber companies was a subsidy, incorrectly measured the amount of subsidy, and failed to conduct its investigation properly. Consultations were held on June 18, 2002, and a panel was established at Canada’s request on October 1, 2002. The panel was composed of Mr. Elbio Rosselli, Chair, and Mr. Weislaw Karsz and Mr. Remo Moretta, Members.

In a report circulated on August 29, 2003, the panel found that the United States acted consistently with the SCM Agreement and GATT 1994 in determining that the programs at issue provided a financial contribution and that those programs were “specific” within the meaning of the SCM Agreement. It also found, however, that the United States had acted inconsistently with the SCM Agreement when it rejected private timber prices in Canada as the benchmark to determine whether – and to what extent – Canada was subsidizing lumber companies by providing low-cost timber. The Commerce Department had used U.S. prices as the basis for the benchmark, rejecting Canadian private prices because they were distorted by the government’s dominance in the timber market. The panel also found that the United States had improperly failed to conduct a “pass-through” analysis to determine whether subsidies granted to one producer were passed through to other producers. The United States appealed these issues to the WTO Appellate Body on October 21, 2003, and Canada appealed the “financial contribution” issue on November 5, 2003.

On January 19, 2004, the WTO Appellate Body issued a report finding in favor of the United States in all key respects. The Appellate Body reversed the panel's unfavorable finding with respect to the rejection of Canadian prices as a benchmark; upheld the panel's favorable finding that the provincial governments' provision of low-cost timber to lumber producers constituted a "financial contribution" under the SCM Agreement; and reversed the panel's unfavorable finding that the Commerce Department should have conducted a "pass-through" analysis to determine whether subsidies granted to one lumber company were passed through to other lumber companies through the sale of subsidized lumber. The Appellate Body's only finding against the United States was that the Commerce Department should have conducted such a pass-through analysis with respect to the sale of logs from harvester/sawmills to unrelated sawmills.

The DSB adopted the panel and Appellate Body reports on February 17, 2004. The United States stated its intention to implement the DSB recommendations and rulings on March 5, 2004. On December 17, 2004, the United States informed the DSB that Commerce had revised its CVD order, thereby implementing the DSB's recommendations and rulings.

Following a request by Canada, on January 14, 2005, the DSB established an Article 21.5 compliance panel to review the new Commerce determination. Canada also requested authorization to suspend concessions or other obligations pursuant to Article 22.2 of the DSU, in the amount of C$200,000,000. The United States objected to this level, referring the matter to arbitration. Under a sequencing agreement, the parties agreed to request that the arbitration be suspended pending completion of the compliance proceeding.

14. United States—Sunset reviews of antidumping and countervailing duty orders on certain steel products from the EC (WT/DS262)

On July 25, 2002, the United States received from the EC a request for consultations regarding ITC and Commerce determinations made in sunset reviews of the antidumping and countervailing duty orders on corrosion-resistant steel from France and Germany and the antidumping and countervailing duty orders on cut-to-length steel from Germany. The EC request also concerns certain provisions and procedures contained in the Tariff Act of 1930, Commerce's regulations, and Commerce's so-called Sunset Policy Bulletin. The EC raises several concerns, including the alleged presumption of continued dumping or subsidization where a party waives its participation in a Commerce sunset review; the application of a 0.5 percent de minimis standard in antidumping sunset reviews; the criteria for conducting a cumulative injury analysis and the decision of the ITC to use a cumulative analysis; the assessment of the likely volume of imports in a sunset review; and the alleged failure of the ITC to use publicly available information as a substitute for missing information. Consultations were held September 12, 2002.

15. United States—Final dumping determination on softwood lumber from Canada (WT/DS264)

On September 13, 2002, Canada requested consultations regarding the Department of Commerce's amended final determination of sales at less than fair value of certain softwood lumber from Canada, along with the antidumping duty order with respect to imports of the subject products. Canada contests the initiation of the investigation, arguing that the petition did not contain sufficient evidence to justify initiation and that the Byrd Amendment precludes an objective examination of the degree of support for the petition. Canada further asserts that Commerce, in calculating the margin of dumping, made improper comparisons between sales in the home market and sales in the U.S. market. Canada also challenges Commerce's conduct of the investigation, arguing that Commerce failed to issue timely decisions and provide reasonable briefing schedules. Consultations were held October 11, 2002.

Canada requested the establishment of a panel on December 6, 2002, and the DSB established a panel on January 8, 2003. On February 25, 2003, the parties agreed on the panelists, as follows: Mr. Harsha V. Singh, Chairman, and Mr. Gerhard Hannes Welge and Mr. Adrian Makuc, Members. In its report, the panel rejected Canada's arguments: (1) that Commerce's investigation was improperly initiated; (2) that Commerce had defined the scope of the investigation (i.e., the "product under investigation") too broadly; and (3) that Commerce improperly declined to make certain adjustment based on difference in dimension of products involved in particular transactions compared. The panel also rejected Canada's claims on company-specific calculation issues. The one claim that the panel upheld was Canada's argument that Commerce's use of "zeroing" in comparing U.S. price to normal value was inconsistent with Article 2.4.2 of the Antidumping Agreement.

On May 13, 2004, the United States filed a notice of appeal regarding the "zeroing" issue. Canada cross-appealed with respect to two company-specific issues (one regarding the allocation of costs to Abitibi, and the other regarding the valuation of an offset to cost of production for Tembec). The Appellate Body issued its report on August 11, 2004. The report upheld the panel's findings on "zeroing" and the Tembec issue. It reversed a panel finding regarding the Abitibi issue concerning interpretation of the term "consider all available evidence" in Article 2.2.1.1 of the AD Agreement; however, it declined to complete the panel's legal analysis. The panel and Appellate Body reports were adopted at the August 31, 2004 DSB meeting. The United States and Canada agreed that the reasonable period of time for implementation in this dispute will expire on April 15, 2005.

16. United States—Subsidies on upland cotton (WT/DS267)

On September 27, 2002, the United States received from Brazil a request for consultations pursuant to Articles 4.1, 7.1 and 30 of the Agreement on Subsidies and Countervailing Measures, Article 19 of the Agreement on Agriculture, Article XXII of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade 1994, and Article 4 of the Understanding on Rules and Procedures Governing the Settlement of Disputes. The Brazilian letter requests consultations pertaining to "prohibited and actionable subsidies provided to U.S. producers, users and/or exporters of upland cotton, as well as legislation, regulations, statutory instruments and amendments thereto providing such subsidies (including export credits), grants, and any other assistance to the U.S. producers, users and exporters of upland cotton [footnote omitted]." Brazil claims that these alleged subsidies and measures are inconsistent with U.S. commitments and obligations under the Agreement on Subsidies and Countervailing Measures, the Agreement on Agriculture, and the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade 1994. Consultations were held December 3-4, 2002. A second round of consultations was held January 17, 2003. Brazil requested the establishment of a panel on February 6, 2003. The DSB established a panel on March 18, 2003. The Director General composed the panel as follows: Mr. Dariusz Rosati, Chairman, and Mr. Mario Matus and Mr. Daniel Moulis, Members.

On September 8, 2004, the panel circulated its report to all WTO Members and the public. The panel made some findings in favor of Brazil on certain of its claims and other findings in favor of the United States:

- The panel found that the “Peace Clause” in the WTO Agreement on Agriculture did not apply to a number of U.S. measures, including (1) domestic support measures and (2) export credit guarantees for “unscheduled commodities” and rice (a “scheduled commodity”). Therefore, Brazil could proceed with certain of its challenges.
- The panel found that export credit guarantees for “unscheduled commodities” (such as cotton and soybeans) and for rice are prohibited export subsidies. However, the panel also found that Brazil had not demonstrated that the guarantees for other “scheduled commodities” exceeded U.S. WTO reduction commitments and therefore breached the Peace Clause. Further, Brazil had not demonstrated that the programs threaten to lead to circumvention of U.S. WTO reduction commitments for other “scheduled commodities” and for “unscheduled commodities” not currently receiving guarantees.
- Some U.S. domestic support programs (i.e., marketing loan, counter-cyclical, market loss assistance, and Step 2 payments) were found to cause significant suppression of cotton prices in the world market in marketing years 1999-2002 causing serious prejudice to Brazil’s interests. However, the panel found that other U.S. domestic support programs (i.e., production flexibility contract payments, direct payments, and crop insurance payments) did not cause serious prejudice to Brazil’s interests because Brazil failed to show that these programs caused significant price suppression. The panel also found that Brazil failed to show that any U.S. program caused an increase in U.S. world market share for upland cotton constituting serious prejudice.
- The panel did not reach Brazil’s claim that U.S. domestic support programs threatened to cause serious prejudice to Brazil’s interests in marketing years 2003-2007. The panel also did not reach Brazil’s claim that U.S. domestic support programs per se cause serious prejudice in those years.
- The panel also found that Brazil had failed to establish that FSC/ETI tax benefits for cotton exporters were prohibited export subsidies.

- Finally, the panel found that Step 2 payments to exporters of cotton are prohibited export subsidies, not protected by the Peace Clause, and Step 2 payments to domestic users are prohibited import substitution subsidies because they were only made for U.S. cotton.

On October 18, 2004, the United States filed a notice of appeal. The oral hearing was held on December 13-15, 2004.

17. United States—Sunset review of anti-dumping measures on oil country tubular goods from Argentina (WT/DS268)

On October 7, 2002, Argentina requested consultations regarding DOC and ITC determinations in the sunset review of the antidumping duty order on oil country tubular goods from Argentina, as well as the DOC's determination to continue the order. Argentina also identifies as measures sections 751(c) and 752 of the Tariff Act of 1930, the URAA Statement of Administrative Action, the sunset review regulations of the DOC and the ITC, and the DOC Sunset Policy Bulletin. The specific concerns raised by Argentina are: (1) the DOC's evidentiary standard for initiating a sunset review; (2) the DOC's use of a 0.5 percent de minimis standard, as opposed to the 2 percent standard for investigations; (3) the DOC's application of the "likelihood" standard; (4) the U.S. standard for determining whether continued or recurring injury is "likely"; (5) the alleged failure by the ITC to conduct an "objective examination"; and (6) the statutory provisions addressing the time period within which the ITC is to assess the likelihood of continued or recurring injury. Argentina alleges violations of various provisions of the Antidumping Agreement, GATT 1994 and Article XVI:4 of the WTO Agreement. Consultations were held November 14, 2002.

Argentina requested the establishment of a panel on April 3, 2003. The DSB established a panel on May 19, 2003. On September 4, 2003, the Director General composed the panel as follows: Mr. Paul O'Connor, Chairman, and Mr. Bruce Cullen and Mr. Faizullah Khilji, Members. In its report circulated July 16, 2004, the panel agreed with Argentina that the waiver provisions prevent the DOC from making a determination as required by Article 11.3 and that the DOC's Sunset Policy Bulletin is inconsistent with Article 11.3. The panel rejected Argentina's claims that the ITC did not correctly apply the "likely" standard and did not conduct an objective examination. Further, the panel concluded that statutes providing for cumulation and the time-frame for continuation or recurrence of injury were not inconsistent with Article 11.3.

On August 31, 2004, the United States filed a notice of appeal. The Appellate Body issued its report on November 29, 2004. The Appellate Body reversed the panel's finding against the Sunset Policy Bulletin and upheld the other findings described above. The DSB adopted the panel and Appellate Body reports on December 17, 2004.

18. United States—Investigation of the International Trade Commission in softwood lumber from Canada (WT/DS277)

On December 20, 2002, Canada requested consultations with the United States on the USITC's final determination in its investigations concerning softwood lumber from Canada. The Commission determined that an industry in the United States is threatened with material injury by reason of imports from Canada found to be subsidized and sold in the United States at less than fair value. Canada alleges four flaws in the ITC's determination: (1) basing threat determination on "allegation, conjecture, and remote possibility"; (2) failing to establish that circumstances that would convert threatened injury into actual injury are "clearly foreseen and imminent"; (3) "failing to properly consider all factors relevant to determining the existence of a threat of material injury"; and (4) failing to properly consider the impact of dumped and subsidized imports on the domestic industry. More generally, Canada alleges that the ITC's report lacked "sufficient detail, relevant information and considerations, and proper reasons." Consultations were held January 22, 2003.

Canada requested the establishment of a panel on April 3, 2003, and the DSB established a panel on May 7, 2003. On June 19, 2003, the Director General composed the panel as follows: Mr. Hardeep Singh Puri, Chairman, and Mr. Paul O'Connor and Ms. Luz Elena Reyes De La Torre, Members. In its report circulated on March 22, 2004, the panel agreed with Canada's principal argument was that the ITC's threat of injury determination was not supported by a reasoned and adequate explanation, and agreed with Canada that the ITC had failed to establish that imports threaten to cause injury. However, the panel: declined Canada's request to find violations of certain overarching obligations under the Antidumping and Subsidies Agreements; rejected Canada's argument that a requirement that an investigating authority take "special care" is a stand-alone obligation; rejected Canada's argument that the ITC was obligated to identify an abrupt change in circumstances; agreed with the United States that, where the Antidumping and Subsidies Agreements required the ITC to "consider" certain factors, the ITC was not required to make explicit findings with respect to those factors; and rejected Canada's argument that the United States violated certain provisions of the applicable agreements that pertain to present material injury. The DSB adopted the panel report on April 26, 2004.

At the May 19, 2004 meeting of the DSB, the United States stated its intention to implement the rulings and recommendations of the DSB. On November 24, 2004, the ITC issued a new threat-of-injury determination, finding that the U.S. lumber industry was threatened with material injury by reason of dumped and subsidized lumber from Canada. On December 13, Commerce amended the antidumping and countervailing duty orders to reflect the issuance and implementation of the new ITC determination.

19. United States—Countervailing duties on steel plate from Mexico (WT/DS280)

On January 21, 2003, Mexico requested consultations on an administrative review of a countervailing duty order on carbon steel plate in sheets from Mexico. Mexico alleges that the Department of Commerce used a WTO-inconsistent methodology – the "change-in-ownership" methodology – to determine the existence of countervailable benefits bestowed on a Mexican steel producer. Mexico alleges inconsistency with various articles of the WTO Agreement on Subsidies and Countervailing Measures. Consultations were held April 2-4, 2003. Mexico requested the establishment of a panel on August 4, 2003, and the DSB established a panel on August 29, 2003.

20. United States—Anti-dumping measures on cement from Mexico (WT/DS281)

On January 31, 2003, Mexico requested consultations regarding a variety of administrative determinations made in connection with the antidumping duty order on gray portland cement and cement clinker from Mexico, including seven administrative review determinations by Commerce, the sunset determinations of Commerce and the ITC, and the ITC's refusal to conduct a changed circumstances review. Mexico also challenges certain provisions and procedures contained in the Tariff Act of 1930, the regulations of Commerce and the ITC, and Commerce's Sunset Policy Bulletin, as well as the URAA Statement of Administrative Action. Mexico raises a host of concerns, including case-specific dumping calculation issues; Commerce's practice of zeroing; the analytical standards used by Commerce and the ITC in sunset reviews; the U.S. retrospective system of duty assessment, including the assessment of interest; and the assessment of duties in regional industry cases. Consultations were held April 2-4, 2003. Mexico requested the establishment of a panel on July 29, 2003, and the DSB established a panel on August 29, 2003. On September 3, 2004, the Director-General composed the panel as follows: Mr. Peter Palecka, Chair, and Mr. Martin Garcia and Mr. David Unterhalter, Members.

21. United States—Anti-dumping measures on oil country tubular goods (OCTG) from Mexico (WT/DS282)

On February 18, 2003, Mexico requested consultations regarding several administrative determinations made in connection with the antidumping duty order on oil country tubular goods from Mexico, including the sunset review determinations of Commerce and the ITC. Mexico also challenges certain provisions and procedures contained in the Tariff Act of 1930, the regulations of Commerce and the ITC, and Commerce's Sunset Policy Bulletin, as well as the URAA Statement of Administrative Action. The focus of this case appears to be on the analytical standards used by Commerce and the ITC in sunset reviews, although Mexico also challenges certain aspects of Commerce's antidumping methodology. Consultations were held April 2-4, 2003. Mexico requested the establishment of a panel on July 29, 2003, and the DSB established a panel on August 29, 2003. On February 11, 2003, the following panelists were selected, with the consent of the parties, to review Mexico's claims: Mr. Christer Manhusen, Chairman; Mr. Alistair James Stewart and Ms. Stephanie Sin Far Man, Members.

22. United States—Measures affecting the cross-border supply of gambling and betting services (WT/DS285)

On March 13, 2003, the United States received from Antigua & Barbuda a request for consultations regarding its claim that U.S. federal, state and territorial laws on gambling violate U.S. specific commitments under the GATS, as well as Articles VI, XI, XVI, and XVII of the GATS, to the extent that such laws prevent or can prevent operators from Antigua and Barbuda from lawfully offering gambling and betting services in the United States. Antigua & Barbuda revised its request for consultations on April 1, 2003. Consultations were held on April 30, 2003.

Antigua & Barbuda requested the establishment of a panel on June 12, 2003. The DSB established a panel on July 21, 2003. On August 25, 2003, the Director General composed the panel as follows: Mr. B. K. Zutshi, Chairman, and Mr. Virachai Plasai and Mr. Richard Plender, Members. The panel's final report, circulated on November 10, 2004, found that the United States breached Article XVI (Market Access) of the GATS by maintaining three U.S. federal laws (18 U.S.C. §§ 1084, 1952, and 1955) and certain statutes of Louisiana, Massachusetts, South Dakota, and Utah. It also found that these measures were not justified under exceptions in Article XIV of the GATS. The United States filed a notice of appeal on January 7, 2005.

23. United States—Laws, regulations and methodology for calculating dumping margins (“zeroing”) (WT/DS294)

On June 12, 2003, the European Communities requested consultations regarding the use of "zeroing" in the calculation of dumping margins. Consultations were held July 17, 2003. The EC requested further consultations on September 8, 2003. Consultations were held October 6, 2003. The EC requested the establishment of a panel on February 5, 2004, and the DSB established a panel on March 19, 2004. On October 27, 2004, the panel was composed as follows: Mr. Crawford Falconer, Chair, and Mr. Hans-Friedrich Beseler and Mr. William Davey, Members.

24. United States—Countervailing duty investigation on dynamic random access memory semiconductors (DRAMS) from Korea (WT/DS296)

On June 30, 2003, Korea requested consultations regarding determinations made in the countervailing duty investigation on DRAMS from Korea, and related laws and regulations. Consultations were held August 20, 2003. Korea requested further consultations on August 18, 2003, which were held October 1, 2003. Korea requested the establishment of a panel on November 19, 2003. The panel request covered only the Commerce and ITC determinations made in the DRAMS investigation. The DSB established a panel on January 23, 2004. On March 5, 2004, the Director General composed the panel as follows: H. E. Mr. Hardeep Puri, Chair, and Mr. John Adank and Mr. Michael Mulgrew, Members.

25. United States—Determination of the International Trade Commission in hard red spring wheat from Canada (WT/DS310)

On April 8, 2004, Canada requested consultations regarding the U.S. International Trade Commission's determination on hard red spring wheat. In its request, Canada alleged that the United States has violated Article VI:6(a) of the GATT 1994 and various articles of the Anti-dumping Agreement and the SCM Agreement. Canada alleged that these violations stemmed from certain errors in the ITC's determination. In particular, Canada claims that the ITC: (1) failed "to properly examine the effect of the dumped and subsidized imports on prices in the domestic market for like products;" (2) failed "to properly examine the impact of the dumped and subsidized imports on domestic producers of like products;" (3) failed "to properly demonstrate a causal relationship between the dumped and subsidized imports and material injury to the domestic industry;" (4) failed "to properly examine known factors other than dumping and subsidizing that were injuring the domestic industry;" and (5) attributed to the dumped and subsidized imports the injuries caused by other factors. Consultations were held on May 6, 2004. On June 11, 2004, Canada requested the establishment of a panel, the United States objected, and Canada made but withdrew a second panel request.

26. United States—Reviews of countervailing duty on softwood lumber from Canada (WT/DS311)

On April 14, 2004, Canada requested consultations concerning what it termed "the failure of the United States Department of Commerce (Commerce) to complete expedited reviews of the countervailing duty order concerning certain softwood lumber products from Canada" and "the refusal and failure of Commerce to conduct company-specific administrative reviews of the same countervailing duty order." Canada alleged that the United States had acted inconsistently with several provisions of the SCM Agreement and with Article VI:3 of the GATT 1994. Consultations were held on June 8, 2004. The dispute remains in the consultation phase.

27. United States—Subsidies on large civil aircraft (WT/DS317)

On October 6, 2004, the European Communities requested consultations with respect to "prohibited and actionable subsidies provided to U.S. producers of large civil aircraft." The EC alleged that such subsidies violated several provisions of the SCM Agreement, as well as Article III:4 of the GATT. Consultations were held on November 5, 2004. On January 11, 2005, the United States and the EU agreed to a framework for the negotiation of a new agreement to end subsidies for large civil aircraft. The parties set a three-month time frame for the negotiations and agreed that, during negotiations, they would not request panel proceedings.

28. United States - Section 776 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (WT/DS319)

On November 5, 2004, the European Communities requested consultations with the United States with respect to the "facts available" provision of the U.S. dumping statute and the Department of Commerce's dumping order on Stainless Steel Bar from the United Kingdom. The EC claims that both the statutory provision on adverse facts available and Commerce's determination and order are inconsistent with various provisions of the Antidumping Agreement and the GATT 1994. Consultations were held on January 11, 2005.

29. United States - Continued suspension of obligations in the EC - Hormones dispute (WT/DS320)

On November 8, 2004, the European Communities requested consultations with respect to “the United States’ continued suspension of concessions and other obligations under the covered agreements” in the EC – Hormones dispute. Consultations were held on December 16, 2004. The EC requested the establishment of a panel on January 13, 2005.

30. United States – Measures relating to zeroing and sunset reviews (WT/DS322)

On November 24, 2004, Japan requested consultations with respect to: (1) the Department of Commerce’s alleged practice of “zeroing” in antidumping investigations, administrative reviews, sunset reviews, and in assessing the final antidumping duty liability on entries upon liquidation; (2) in sunset reviews of antidumping duty orders, Commerce’s alleged irrefutable presumption of the likelihood of continuation or recurrence of dumping in certain factual situations; and (3) in sunset reviews, the waiver provisions of U.S. law. Japan claims that these alleged measures breach various provisions of the AD Agreement and Article VI of the GATT 1994. Consultations were held on December 20, 2004.

31. United States – Provisional antidumping measures on shrimp from Thailand (WT/DS324)

On December 9, 2004, Thailand requested consultations with respect to the Department of Commerce’s imposition of provisional antidumping duties on certain frozen and canned warmwater shrimp from Thailand. Specifically, Thailand has alleged that Commerce’s use of a “zeroing” methodology is inconsistent with Article 2.4 of the AD Agreement. Thailand also has alleged that Commerce’s resort to “adverse facts available” in calculating normal value for one Thai producer violates provisions of Article 6 and Annex II of the AD Agreement; and that Commerce’s alleged failure to make due allowances for certain factors in its calculations for the Thai exporters violates Article 2.4 of the AD Agreement.

32. United States – Anti-Dumping Determinations Regarding Stainless Steel from Mexico (WT/DS325)

On January 5, 2005, Mexico requested consultations with respect to the Department of Commerce’s alleged use of “zeroing” in an antidumping investigation and three administrative reviews involving certain stainless steel products from Mexico. Mexico claims these alleged measures breach several provisions of the AD Agreement, the GATT 1994 and the WTO Agreement.

II. NAFTA - CHAPTER 20

A. Proceedings in which the United States is a plaintiff

No current actions.

B. Proceedings in which the United States is a defendant

1. Mexico—Sugar TRQ

On March 13, 1998, Mexico requested consultations with the United States under NAFTA Chapter 20 concerning the implementation of the U.S. TRQ on sugar. Consultations were held on April 15, 1998. On January 7, 1999, Mexico requested a meeting of the NAFTA Commission on this issue, and the meeting was held on November 17, 1999. Mexico then requested the formation of a Chapter 20 panel on August 18, 2000.
